

VICTIMS OF RAID FINED IN COURT

Sixteen Charged With Being Pres- ent at Card Game—Many Of- fenders Appeared Today

The band of sixteen who were taken into custody by Inspectors Holland and Grady, Sergeant Duncan, Warrant Officer Cawley and Officer Leighton yesterday, all appeared in court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of being present where a card game was being played on the Lord's day. Through an interpreter each one promptly refused to admit that he was the one who ran the establishment on Winter street where the raid was made. They all, acknowledging being at fault, inasmuch as card playing on Sunday is against the law, but were very certain that no money was at stake in the game. The court asserted that the playing of cards on Sunday should be stopped and ordered each man to pay the maximum penalty of $5.00.

William J. Lally was in the docket this morning charged with being drunk. This was the third time within the year that he has been up before the local court. His wife took the witness stand and told the judge that her husband was practically worthless so far as support for herself was concerned. Judge Enright gave him his chance but ordered him to turn over $5.00 to his wife through the probationary channels.

John F. Fay was another defendant who, from his wife's testimony, had been carrying things with a high hand for the last two months. He was given a four months suspended sentence to jail which will be executed if he does not go to work and give his family the proper support.

Spent $200 in Two Weeks

Gabriel Durant came to Lowell to have a regular haircut and from all appearances got what he was after. He told the officers who arrested him that he had gone through with $200 since he first came to town two weeks ago. The court sent him to jail for 15 days in order to give him a chance to get over the effects of his over-indulgence in alcoholic beverages.

Thomas Twelby was given a four months sentence to jail for continued drunkenness. Michael Degan, a Grat-ton man with only one leg, was given another chance to get outside the city limits. Judge Enright warned the defendant that if he was found here again he would be sent to jail for a long term.

Edward J. McCashin, a fourth of-fender for over indulgence, was found guilty and his case continued for sentence until tomorrow. John Olsen's case on the same charge was continued until Thursday.

Non-Support Cases

The case of John J. Walsh, charged with non-support, was continued at request of his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, Esq., until the 3th of May. Antonio Mingos, who is charged with non-support in the superior court now, was in again on the same charge. He was sentenced to a long jail term in the local court but appealed his case. Today's case was continued by agreement of the counsel for both parties. Daniel J. Donahue for the defence and Attorney Pearson for the prosecution. Phillip Novak was found guilty of being present where gaming was going on and was fined five dollars. Young Novak was out on probation but his term of probation was continued by the court.

Michael Rivera, James P. Rooney and Charles P. Hanley were all fined $5 for drunkenness on Sunday. Stanislaw Dubiel and Lennis R. Leclair were all fined $8 for their egg-og appearance within a year on the charge of over indulgence in intoxi-cants. There were six $2 fines for first offenders and five releases by Probation Officer Slattery.

Second Week of Belgium Strike—500,- 000 Idle—Minister of War Pre- pared for Trouble

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 21.—The general strike for equal suffrage in Belgium enters on its second week with the ranks of the strikers unbroken and, in fact, strengthened by recruits, bringing their total up to nearly 600,000, according to socialist computations. A cheerful spirit prevails among the working classes who feel that the government will be obliged to yield at least to the compromise suggested by the liberal leaders. This provides that the equalization of the parliamentary franchise shall be immediately taken into consideration in event of the committee now dealing with the provincial and commercial franchise evolving a plan improving on the present method. Cabinet ministers, on the other hand, are determined not to surrender if the government still commands a majority of the chamber of deputies, when it reassembles tomorrow.

The socialist national convention will meet on Wednesday to discuss the situation.

Acts of violence continue to be of extremely rare occurrence and are in many cases attributed to other causes than the strike. A large number of telegraph poles and wires have been cut, however, and the minister of war has notified all the owners of carrier pigeons that he may commandeer the birds for military purposes in case of necessity.

The printers' strike in Brussels has affected most of the newspapers except the two socialist organs and the Petit Bleu, whose proprietor has subscribed $20,000 to the general fund.

COUNTY COMMISSION IN LOWELL TODAY

Members Had Conference With Mayor and Others Relative to Vaults in Police Building

The county commissioners were at the court house this morning and Mayor O'Donnell, Commissioners Cummings and Inspector of Buildings Francis Connor had a conference with them relative to the vaults in the police station building and the building itself. The conference had to do mostly with expense of the vaults ordered installed by the keeper of records and the commissioners said they would grant the mayor and the others another conference at a later date. The county, as is well known, rents the police court and offices connected with it from the city, and the question comes as to how much of the expense the county will share in the installation of the vaults.

Town Selectmen, stated that personally he has no objection to the widening of the road, which he would regard as a public improvement, but he considers that there are many other improvements more in need of immediate action. He said that the road is commonly used by only a few families of the town for teaming purposes, and that there is not a general demand for the change at this time. He also declared himself in favor of delay so that the matter could be brought to the attention of the town authorities at a formal hearing. In this manner the general feeling of the people regarding it could be determined. In answer to the statement of Mr. Foster he said that the town has been generous with North Tewksbury and mentioned the recent improvements of the region.

C. W. Parsons, chairman of the road commissioners, declared himself adverse to the petition on the ground of economy, stating that in his opinion the outlay is not justified by the demand, or the amount of good that would be done by the extension.

Mr. Rogers, attorney for the town, objected to the petition, stating that only very few of the residents would be benefited by the change. He also said that the town has many more dangerous spots than the entrance of the river road.

Mr. Levi S. Gould, one of the commissioners, declared himself in favor of the project. He explained, however, that he was simply giving his personal opinion. He favored it because it is a matter that will come up from time to time and must be eventually settled. At the same time he would like to get an expression of the opinion of the town as brought out at a public meeting. Before any definite action is taken there will have to be a second hearing, and in the meantime the commissioners will take the matter under consideration.

GRADE CROSSING CASE CLOSED

Suit for Recovery of Alleged Land Damages Given to Jury in Superior Court

The testimony in the case of Bennett et als. vs. City of Lowell, a petition for the recovery for alleged land damages caused by the abolition of the School street grade crossing, which was started in superior court last Thursday, came to a close this forenoon. The judge's charge to the jury was made at 11:30 o'clock after Messrs. Howard and Hennessy, for the plaintiff and defense respectively, had presented their arguments.

In the course of his remarks Judge Pratt referred to the commission that was appointed to study the matter of abolishing grade crossings, and its work, and read the recommendations of the said petition pertaining to the so-called School street crossing. He also stated that the city of Lowell was requested to pay only 10 per cent of the actual cost of the work on the said crossing. The jury retired at 12:40 o'clock.

Hatch vs. Bartlett

The next case to go to trial was that of Hatch vs. Bartlett, an action of contract, the ad damnum of which is $1,000. The plaintiff, Susie A. Hatch, sues to recover on an alleged promissory note of $300, the said note to have been given on Nov. 26, 1909. The defendant, Dr. Solon Bartlett, passed away last year and Haven G. Hill is the respondent in the case, he being the administrator of Dr. Bartlett's estate.

The first witness called was the plaintiff, who testified to having known Dr. Bartlett for a number of years. She said she loaned the plaintiff the alleged sum of money and demanded the same when the note was due, but did not receive it. At this point court adjourned until 2 o'clock for luncheon. Melvin Rogers appears for the plaintiff and Lawyer Wilson for the defendant.

LOWELL A SPOTLESS TOWN

Clean Up Week to be a Big Success—Everybody's Get- ting the Habit

That Mayor O'Donnell's "Clean Up Week" proclamation was widely read in the newspapers is being manifested today by people in all sections of the city. The cleaning up process will continue all during the week and the stuff carried from backyards along early sheds and distributed on the sidewalks this forenoon was a caution. The board of health has a few extra men at work and the teams of the health department are making extra trips. Mayor O'Donnell said this forenoon that if the occasion required it the department would employ automobile trucks to remove the debris.

It seems that the teachers in the schools impressed upon the minds of the pupils the part that they should take in helping to clean up the city and they were out today and early this morning doing their little bit, and all probably they will be working again this evening.

It has been suggested that "Clean Up Week" would be a very appropriate time in which to plant trees. A great many trees have been removed from the streets in this city within the last few years and about 600 trees now in our streets have been condemned and, sooner or later, will have to be removed.

A little painting or whitewashing of fences can be done by any resourceful boy and will add much to the cleanliness and attractiveness of his home. It is generally taken for granted that a tidy yard denotes a tidy house, also that a filthy appearing yard is a good sign that the interior is not in the condition that it should be.

Another thing to remember is that any pool of standing water is a breeding place for mosquitoes and other insects. Such places should be drained and filled in with gravel to prevent disease. The week should be especially celebrated by instituting a campaign against the housefly. The fly is the greatest disease and filth carrier with which we must contend, and everything possible should be done to kill off as many as possible.

Precaution Against Fire

As a precaution against fire all premises should be made clean. All loose rubbish and litter collections become as regular under boxes in hot weather to catch every flying spark, half burned match, cigar or cigarette stub, carelessly thrown into them and burst into uncontrollable flame. Many destructive fires have had their origin from these very sources and they should be guarded against with more vigilance than ever at this season of the year. As a matter of fact this is something that can be done every day of the year to beautify the city and guard against disease and destruction.

Mayor O'Donnell was delighted this morning to note the general clean up movement about the city, and he told the reporters at city hall that he did not think so good a start would be made today. He allows that all the people of Lowell require is a gentle reminder and that when it comes to co-operation they are, as the late and lamented Dave Kimball would say, "right there with the berries."

Leg Broken and Other Injuries That May Cause Death—Sent to St. John's Hospital

John Morrissy of 655 East Ninth street, South Boston, received severe injuries this morning when he fell from the top of the iron work at the new car barns that the Boston & Maine railroad is putting up in Billerica. Morrissy's right ankle was fractured and his back and arms are covered with bruises from the fall. He was taken to Lowell on the 9 o'clock train and conveyed from the scene to St. John's hospital in the ambulance. It is feared at the hospital that he may be suffering from internal injuries, although on account of his weak present condition, a thorough examination has not yet been made. His injuries may be fatal.

BODY OF AN UNKNOWN WOMAN

Taken From the Merrimack River—She Weighed About 190 Pounds

The body of an unknown woman was found floating in the Merrimack river yesterday afternoon by Martin Pendergast who accidentally noticed the body as it drifted slowly with the current. Mr. Pendergast was walking along Stockport street early in the afternoon when he made the discovery. He immediately notified the police. Lieutenant Maher and Warrant Officer Cawley responded and succeeded in dragging the body to the shore. The body now rests at the rooms of Underwriters, Dorrnell & Sons. Medical Examiner J. V. Meigs refused to sign the death certificate until the case had been looked into.

The woman was apparently some forty years of age at the time of her death and weighed in the neighborhood of 190 pounds. A black skirt, dark blue waist and a pair of black stockings were all that the body was clothed in. The police are investigating the cause of the woman's death.

POPE PIUS ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Bulletins Say That Pontiff is Regaining Strength—Physicians Order Change of Diet

ROME, April 21.—Pope Pius continued today on the road to convalescence. A brief bulletin to this effect was issued by Prof. Marchisava and Dr. Amici at the Vatican this morning with the announcement that the pontiff's condition was so satisfactory that there would be no further bulletins published as to his health.

The physicians and attendants of the pope are taking the greatest precautions to prevent him from making any exertion just now as any activity on his part is still regarded as dangerous, owing to his recent low condition. As the pontiff, however, is very desirous of beginning work again, he often insists that Mgr. Grossi and Mgr. Pescini, his private secretaries, read him the most important of the letters which accumulated during his illness.

The better condition of his health was so marked today that Prof. Marchisava permitted the pope a change of diet, consisting of rice cooked in the Venetian way, a small piece of chicken and half a glass of old Bordeaux.

LEAK IN GORHAM ST.

Furnished Work For the Local Water Works.

Some time this morning a report was sent in to the water department of a leak in Gorham street, supposed to be in the water main of that street. The leak is in the vicinity of Marren's liquor establishment and a number of men were immediately sent there to investigate and repair the trouble. It is said that Mr. Marren and the proprietor of a nearby market had noticed the water leaking into their cellars in small quantities and reported the matter to the headquarters of the department. An excavation was made and water poured forth in large volumes so that it was found necessary to send a pump to the place when the men failed to keep the water out of the hole by means of pails. The storekeepers in that vicinity said this morning that their places had not been damaged to any extent because of the leak. Up to this afternoon, the origin of the water which poured forth onto the street had not been located.

This afternoon, after considerable difficulty, the leak was finally located in a branch of the water main known as a "goose neck," and it was at once repaired. No damage is reported by any of the storekeepers in the neighborhood although a considerable quantity of water entered one or two of the cellars, causing the owners to remove part of their goods.

FIRE CHIEF ELECTION

May be Pulled Off To- morrow Afternoon

It was stated at city hall this forenoon that the municipal council, at its meeting tomorrow afternoon would proceed to the election of a successor to Fire Chief Edward S. Hosmer. Mayor O'Donnell has already said that he would vote for District Chief Edward F. Saunders, and Commissioner Cummings said today that he would vote for Capt. "Dan" Crowley. Other members of the council are a bit reticent in the matter, and none of them would acknowledge today that they knew anything about an election tomorrow afternoon. It has been stated that Commissioner Barrett will vote for District Chief James C. Sullivan, but Mr. Barrett does not admit that he has said so.

THE ROBERTSON CO.

Has Made Important Additions to Its Business

It is surprising what can be accomplished in a few years by applying the saying goes "a live wire" to a man's business, and the Robertson Bros. furniture dealers of our city, have exemplified that saying of the live wire in their business. Having started in a very modest furniture store by strict and close attention to business they have been gradually adding to the capacity of their store each succeeding year in both floor space and variety of goods so as to meet the ever increasing demands, until today they can certainly feel that they have and are entitled to the reputation of being the leading furniture house of our city. A few weeks ago they were fortunate in being able to take over a portion of their building with the exception of Roy & O'Brien's store, and they soon set forth with earnestness to make alterations suitable for carrying on the furniture business therein. One of the most important additions they made was to change a portion of one of the floors into a live room flat of average size and they have been successful to the last degree in their effort, for this happy result enables the newly married couples who desire to go house-keeping to see almost at glance just what they might need. These rooms run the entire width of the building starting with the kitchen which is furnished with all the modern kitchen furniture making it a place of beauty, convenience and comfort. The second is the dining room with furniture which is up to date. The sitting room follows: Then comes the chamber and the parlor. Beautifully furnished with up-to-date furniture which would charm the heart of any bride. This is positively beyond any idea that has ever been carried out by any other furniture house in our city, and judging from the many compliments received from the thousands of people who called at the establishment last week it will prove to be one of the biggest hits in their business career and shows that Messrs. John and Will Robertson are right up to the minute in the furniture line. The most fastidious patron can be suited at Robertson's. Selecting furniture is one of the things that confuses many newly married couples. But in this innovation of the Robertson company the problem has been solved. Lack of space and time prevents us from giving a clear description of the many other beautiful displays of household goods, but we will be content in saying that it is one of the biggest hits that has ever been carried out by any furniture dealer in our city, and would simply say that if you have been here in to inspect as yet go at once, and you will be richly repaid for your trouble. The gentlemanly clerks will be pleased to show anybody through what might be called Lowell's "live wire" furniture store.

Organization Will be Known as "Cadets"

Adjutant General Gardner W. Pearson, with the assistance of the so-called "academic board," which is composed of high officers of the militia, will soon establish a school for the development of educational work along military lines other than marching movements, the same to be composed of a new section of militiamen to be known as "the cadets."

The new section will not be a division of the militia, but will be made up of chosen men from the ranks of the non-commissioned officers of the companies. It will be for the purpose of study in military matters and is planned to educate enlisted men and non-coms in the matters which will fit them to seek commissions and to give valuable service in the field.

General Pearson some time ago appointed the so-called "academic board" to look into this matter and report, and they did, their report being in part as follows:

The board hopes, by establishing the school herein outlined, to furnish in each community supporting a single company, one or two men available for commissions and in communities supporting more than one company, a sufficient number to fill all vacancies. The success of the school depends upon the co-operation of company commanders, enlisted men, the examining board, the academic board, and the officers of the school. To be eligible for admission, all must act in harmony. Company commanders must make the school popular at home stations, and seek in their communities men of capacity and zeal to become cadets.

The senior enlisted States Inspector, in his duty with the Massachusetts militia will be invited to exercise the function of senior instructor in co-operation with the academic board. We consider the objection heretofore raised that a United States army officer is unacquainted with the needs and limitations of the militia, as unfounded.

Candidates for admission to cadetships must have had sufficient education and training to enable them to pursue the work of the school. They shall be subject to a physical examination, and other tests, if necessary, to determine their fitness for admission to the school.

The number of cadets shall be limited to 15 from each regiment of infantry, five from each cavalry corps, seven from a battalion of field artillery, five from the squadron of cavalry, one from the signal corps, 15 from the coast artillery and 15 from the naval brigade.

Cadets shall be assigned as follows: Three at large from each regiment of infantry and the coast artillery corps, one at large from each cavalry corps, battalion of artillery and squadron of cavalry; one from each company of infantry, coast artillery, troop, signal corps company or division of naval brigade, and two from each battery. All appointments shall be made by the commanding officer of the unit from which appointed.

Each cadet shall be an enlisted man of any grade, enlisted and mustered in the organization from which he is appointed. Cadets are not to be relieved from duty with their organization, except in case their organization duties conflict with the school work, in which event the school work is to take precedence. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with any other required of the troops in aid to the civil powers.

All appointments shall be made previous to the beginning of a school year, and no appointments shall be made to fill vacancies existing after the beginning of a school year or at the end of one year's course. Cadets who graduate shall receive a certificate which will be accepted as prima facie evidence of the cadet's professional qualifications as an officer of the grade of first or second lieutenant, or assimilated grades, and in lieu of an examination to determine fitness for these grades.

The course shall cover a period of two years. Cadets will be expected to devote, on an average, seven hours each week to correspondence school work, which will be conducted throughout eight months of the year, to attend eight monthly assemblies, which will begin on Saturday afternoon at the end of each monthly period; and to attend a camp of instruction of seven days' duration, held at the beginning or close of each yearly period of instruction, which shall be in addition to the annual encampment of the organization to which the cadet belongs.

A regular course of military instruction is prescribed for each year. The work of the school is to begin September, 1913.

GEO. W. YOUNG

DIED AT HIS HOME IN MIDDLESEX STREET

Was Prominent Figure in Political Events and Was a Trustee of the Central Savings Bank

Lowell is deploring the loss of one of its most valuable citizens, George W. Young, who died Saturday morning at his home, 114 1/2 Middlesex street. He was one of the best known citizens of this city and his demise will be sorely felt by all who were acquainted with him.

Mr. Young, who was 56 years of age, was born in Stratford, N. H., and for many years was employed by leading railroad and manufacturing companies as their confidential agent at the state house. He was a staunch republican and for many years took an active part in many of the important political events of this state.

He was a member of the Lowell city council for some time and was also connected with the Boston custom house department. Deceased was also connected with banking houses, and since 1870 served faithfully as a trustee of the Central Savings bank, during which time he was often consulted by many bank officials.

Mr. Young was one of the first men in Lowell to realize the importance of developing the upper Highland section of this city, and by his energy streets were constructed, schools built and hundreds of younger residents built new homes in that section.

Deceased is survived by a wife, two sons and two daughters, Charles F., treasurer of the Locks & Canal company and the Tremont & Suffolk Manufacturing Co., and George W. of Rochester, N. H. Miss Florence Young, of this city and Mrs. Edwin E. Shattuck of Concord, N. H.

LOWELL MAY BE EXCLUDED TARIFF BILL WAS REINTRODUCED

From Salisbury Beach Reservation—Lowell Textile School
Wants $45,000

In the House Today—Will be Called for General Debate on Wednesday

The Sun has received several inquiries relative to the status of the bill providing for the exclusion of the city of Lowell from the Salisbury beach reservation. The bill was given a hearing before the committee on harbors and public lands, and the petitioner, Mayor James J. O'Donnell, was given leave to withdraw.

Rep. Victor Francis Jewett took the bill under his wing, so to speak, and after scanning the ground over very carefully had the bill laid on the table in the senate, where it rests at the present time.

Mr. Jewett said today that he expects the bill will be taken from the table early in May and by that time he will have mustered his forces. The constitutionality of the act was questioned and the matter is now before the supreme court of Massachusetts. Mr. Jewett hopes that the supreme court will decide that a city so remotely removed from Salisbury beach as is Lowell should not be included in the Salisbury beach reservation commission. Other places wishing to be excluded from the Salisbury beach reservation district have had similar acts entered and they are all on the senate table where they will remain until May 1.

Lowell Textile School
The Lowell Textile school asked the legislature for $45,000 for maintenance, this year. The school was allowed $10,000 last year and showed a deficit of $6000 at the end of the year. The committee on education from the legislature came to Lowell, looked the school over some few weeks ago. The committee went back to the legislature and recommended the sum of $10,000, the same as was allowed last year.

There will be a fight on this bill later than next week and this fight, too, will be led by Rep. Jewett. It will be remembered that the house committee on ways and means recommended that the appropriation be cut from $45,000 to $10,000, after having heard from the committee on education, and in this spirit the ways and means committee reported to the house. Rep. Jewett succeeded in having the matter recommitted to the committee and the fight to have the amount restored to $45,000 will be on next week. The Lowell delegation at the legislature and the trustees and friends of the school will be on hand to battle for the cause.

State Highway Bill
Rep. Olin Butler's bill for a state highway is now before the house committee on ways and means and this, too, will come up for discussion within a week or two. The bill asks for a $30,000 highway appropriation to complete the boulevard from the Mettuen line to First street.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

The Boy Scouts of this town assembled at the headquarters in Groton road at sunrise on Saturday and observed the coronation of the rising under the leadership of Harold Lodge of the Kanaaroe Patrol. Bugler George De La Haye sounded the reveille. The Old English party held in the town hall on Saturday afternoon was a great success and the hall was the destination of a large number. It is estimated that those who sat down to tea numbered 400 or more. There was an abundance of good things to satisfy the appetites of all. The repast was followed by a social hour, after which the

The Pullman Car Co. has just placed an order with us for five thousand "Everybody's Vacuum Cleaners" for use in each of their cars. We won out against the keenest competition and after they had tested a large number of other and much higher priced cleaners.

Mr. Noyes was very much elated over the news and is positive that there will be five thousand and more of this make of hand vacuum cleaner in the homes of this city if the housewives will but ask for a free demonstration at their homes. A postal will bring him.

A guarantee protecting the purchaser of the cleaner fully is given with each and every cleaner and is as valuable as a gold bond of U. S. currency. Price, $4.00.

RING'S —Kodak Headquarters—
110 MERRIMACK STREET

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The democratic tariff bill, as amended by the house caucus was reintroduced in the house today and will be called for general debate Wednesday. The house rules committee is considering a resolution to limit the time for discussion and the number of amendments, aiming to put the bill through to its passage as rapidly as possible.

A resolution offered in the caucus would limit debate to eight legislative days, the number of amendments to each schedule to two and permit only two amendments to the bill as a whole. Should that resolution pass it is estimated that at least three weeks would be required for house consideration of the bill. With the reintroduction of the bill today, resolutions of the minority attacking it were presented to the house by Rep. Soren E. Payne and his republican colleagues of the ways and means committee. They maintained that the bill is uncalculated to bring down wages to the level of those in foreign countries. The entire ways and means committee will meet tomorrow to report upon the bill and the majority report by Rep. Underwood probably will be made to the house tomorrow.

WILL OF J. P. MORGAN SINGLE MEN'S MISSION

Estimate on Estate Placed at $125,000,000
Opened at St. Peter's Last Night

NEW YORK, April 21.—Interest in the will of J. P. Morgan, made public yesterday, centered today in the value of the financier's estate and of what disposition his son would make of the vast collection of Morgan art treasures.

Less than $20,000,000 was accounted for in the specific bequests made by Mr. Morgan, the rest being the residuary portion left to the son without mention of the amount. Some estimates as high as $125,000,000, but according to a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. not even the son himself can tell within many millions the actual value of the fortune. Until appraised by the state for the purpose of collecting the inheritance tax, the question probably will remain open. J. P. Morgan declined today to say anything in regard to the disposition of the art treasures but it was intimated that he might have a statement to give out some time this week. The treasures were left to the son with a permanent disposition of such portions of them as will be a substantial carrying out of the intentions which "I have cherished to render them permanently available for the pleasure and instruction of the American people."

J. P. Morgan, the testator's son; Herbert L. Satterlee, W. H. Hamilton, his son-in-law, and Lewis C. Ledyard, the Morgan attorney, filed their oaths as executors today. Mrs. Morgan, the widow, and three daughters, Miss Morgan, Mrs. Satterlee and Mrs. Hamilton, and J. P. Morgan have waived citation and the will probably will be admitted to probate tomorrow. The petition to the surrogate makes the formal declaration that the value of the real estate and personal property involved is "over $10,000" in each case.

Children's Home Benefit
The annual benefit entertainment given by the management of the Children's Home tomorrow evening in the Colonial hall, an unusually interesting and varied program has been arranged for the occasion entirely by home talent. President Stevens made a short talk about the home and chorus songs will be sung by some of the children. Fuller.

Local artists have volunteered their services. Mrs. Wm. H. Tepin and Mr. Warren Reid will sing solos and a duet. Mr. Burnett and Miss Eva Marshall will give readings and Miss Kathleen Jennings will sing. Other talented part are: Mrs. Belle Harrington, Miss Marion Arnold, Miss Agnes McCann, Miss Lena R. Fleming and Mr. Albert Ingham. A good advance sale of tickets has been made and all who attend will enjoy a delightful evening.

Civil Service Exam
The mayor has not yet heard anything from the civil service commission relative to the results of the examination for patrolmen seeking promotion which was held at city hall some time ago. It was expected that the results would have been made known a week or more ago, but it is generally conceded that the civil service commission is not a fast moving body.

Compensation Act
A Mr. Dickinson will come to Lowell Monday, May 12, to give an arbitration hearing under the workmen's compensation act. The hearing will be held in the aldermanic council at city hall at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Card of Thanks
We, the undersigned, take this means of conveying to our friends and neighbors our deepest gratitude for the many acts of kindness and sympathy extended to us in our hour of sorrow and for the beautiful floral tributes. Signed,

Mr. and Mrs. Alexis L. Fecteau,
Alderie Fecteau,

MISSION FOR MARRIED MEN CLOSED YESTERDAY

Eloquent Sermon by Redemptorist Preached on the Work of Salvation

The solemn closing of the mission for married men, conducted during the past week at St. Peter's church by the Redemptorist fathers, took place Sunday afternoon, the services opening at three o'clock. The church was taxed to its full capacity by the gathering of nearly 2000 married men of the parish who attended the services.

Those who made the mission received the papal blessing. There was an eloquent sermon by Rev. Father Gannon whose subject dealt with the means of persevering in the faith and in the good resolves of the mission. The preacher exhorted his listeners that they nobly started at this mission and urged them to resort to prayer and frequent attendance at the sacraments of penance and holy communion in order that they might be strengthened in their purpose. The end of the mission is far from being fulfilled unless the lessons learned in the instructions and the good effects of the services remain with the men forever afterward, and that if they fall repeatedly back into mortal sin and make no real effort to live up to the principles of their faith and the mission, the retreat was a failure as far as they are concerned. The priest complimented the men upon the earnestness with which they entered into the spirit of the retreat, attending the services in such large numbers and receiving the sacraments frequently. It was one of the largest and most successful ever held in the parish, he said. The sermon on Saturday evening was in part an explanation of the holy sacrifice of the mass, the different parts of the altar and the general duties of a Catholic man in every day life.

For Single Men

Last evening at half past seven the mission of one week by the same fathers for the single men of St. Peter's parish was opened with a very large attendance. The instructions and sermon were followed by benediction and recitation of the rosary. In his discourse, the Rev. Father urged the men to be true to their mission, even though it means a sacrifice on their part and he dwelt upon the reasons for the mission, saying that it is to the younger men of the day that the Catholic church looks for its glorious future and it is the duty of these men to act as the soldiers of the church throughout their lives.

The subject of the sermon was taken from the text: "What doth a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his own soul?" and the preacher was Rev. Fr. O'Leary. The development of thought of the sermon centered in affirming the end for which man was created and his duty in this regard and for the glorification of God. He drew a strong contrast between the goods of this world, its pleasures and wealth, and the salvation of the soul and in this he pointed out to his hearers how the worldly things can in no wise compare with the spiritual. With this mission, he said, the men are given an opportunity by God to attain salvation; they receive, so to speak, a call from God to bring them to their senses and to a realization of the earth. The mission is one of the means of salvation and yet it will prove a failure unless the men who are attending it do their generous part in taking to heart its lessons and living up to the principles set forth.

The services throughout the remainder of this week will be at the same hours as before both in the morning and in the evening.

FLORETTA WHALEY AT LAST SEES REAL HAPPINESS AHEAD

NEW YORK, April 21.—It would be untruthful to deny that Mr. Cooke and myself are as happy as has been said over the opportunity to marry and give Paul and Chester good names. The only thing I regret is that in Connecticut, where Mrs. Cooke began her suit, so much time is required. I have been told that ninety days must elapse before the case can come up, and as it will then be July the courts will be closed, and we'll have to wait until September. This is what Floretta Whaley said at her home here, where she and Jere Knobe Cooke, former rector of St. George's Episcopal church, Hempstead, N. Y., are living with their two children. They eloped several years ago when Floretta was the clergyman's ward and lived for a few years in San Francisco under assumed names so Cooke could get work. People in the neighborhood of their home here say that Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, as they call themselves, have lived just as any normal family would, and the impression has been given that Mr. Cooke was a very steady and hard working man.

FOR A CLEANER CITY

Member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce

ADDRESSED MEN'S BROTHERHOOD OF KIRK ST. CHURCH

Said There is a Tendency to Feel That We are Nearing Anarchy—Mayor O'Donnell a Speaker

At Kirk Street church, Sunday night, George Brewster Gallup, a member of the city planning committee of the Boston chamber of commerce, spoke at the perfect city and the people who make it. He addressed a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood, and Mayor James E. O'Donnell was another speaker. The mayor was introduced by the pastor, Rev. C. A. Lincoln, and in the course of his remarks said he was tempted to speak of his office and of the duties of the new charter he said that the duties are greater than they have ever been before and that consequently he had been brought closer to actual conditions, financial, economic, and otherwise than would have been possible under other conditions.

The mayor referred to criticism which was offered and specially mentioned a recent trip of the municipal council to Rhode Island, which newspapers referred to as a "junket." That, he said, conveyed the impression that the members of the council ate and drank to their heart's content, when as a matter of fact it was a most abstemious gathering. He said he had talked with the mayor of Lynn and had found that city to be only $150,000 from the debt limit, while at the opening of the present year, Lowell had $451,000 in debt from the limit. Also Lowell had appropriated $75,000 for street paving, while Lawrence, an inferior city, had appropriated $125,000 for paving.

Approaching State of Anarchy
Mr. Gallup said that the city has gone up. "What shall we do to be saved?" This cry, he stated, referred now more to municipalities than to the individuals who uttered it some years ago. There is a tendency, he believed, to feel that we are approaching a state of anarchy, or revolution.

In two hundred cities of this country the commission form of government has been adopted. He stated, and in about 120 of these, movements are on foot for the perfection of these cities. Every tradition, general circumstance, are being worked upon. Dozens of plans for making these cities places in which it will be more and more a pleasure to live are being put out. The cities of the north and west are doing their utmost to copy the industries of New England. If they cannot get them to move they will duplicate them, and besides they offer inducements for the employees in our cities. Employees are going where they can get the most, where they can have better cities. It isn't all a matter of wages in the city perfect.

Mr. Gallup had across upon the neglected part of our municipalities, that part which refers to infant health. It has been figured, he said, that we pay $142 per capita for the care and protection of our cities, while but 23 cents per capita is given to the health department. Thousands of babies die before they are a year old and this is due to the neglect of the municipalities. The negligence of the citizens who allow poor milk to be sold, allow their sanitation, poor housing conditions, etc.

Babies are allowed to be born, he said, without hope or safety. Let them not be forced to go, he said, against the irregularities, the barbarities, the archaic conditions which have obtained so many years.

In his conclusion he referred to the compact made on the Mayflower, by the pilgrims, in which these sturdy men had said: "We are knit together by a strict bond and covenant and held to care for each other's good."

FIGHT IN HIGHEST COURT

To Save Charlton From Extradition

WASHINGTON, April 21.—A final effort was made in the supreme court to save Porter Charlton from extradition to Italy to answer a charge of murder. Charlton is in jail in New Jersey charged with the murder of his wife at Lake Como, Italy. The state department, through Secretary Knox, decided he was a fit subject for extradition under the treaty with Italy. Charlton sought a writ of habeas corpus from federal court in the district of New Jersey and on 10th day the writ appeared to the supreme court. Arguments were heard in the court in support of the contention that he cannot be extradited. The Charlton murder case was one of the sensational of the day three years ago.

BERLIN, April 21.—The German government has called upon the French government to investigate the Nancy affair, when three Germans, accompanied by two ladies, were insulted by French students, which has caused a great impression in Germany. Foreign Secretary Jagow informed the reichstag that the German ambassador in Paris had been instructed to take the necessary steps to secure an investigation. In case the unofficial reports prove to be true the ambassador is "to make representations in regard to the inadequate protection afforded Germans in France." The reichstag greeted the foreign secretary's statement with demonstrations of approval. A preliminary report received by the French ministry of the interior from the central police authority of Nancy says: "Three Germans, accompanied by two ladies, were present Sunday evening at a performance in the Casino. Some coarse remarks were addressed to them by a party of students, and there were some blows from the gallery. The incident, however, passed unnoticed, and the strangers left the Casino shortly after and went to the Brasserie Lorraine. Five or six students followed them to the cafe and repeated the incident of the Casino. The proprietor of the establishment requested the students to be quiet. This they did, but when the house closed the same students, escorted by about fifty onlookers, accompanied the five persons in question to the station and resumed their jests. A dozen of the manifestants succeeded in making their way to the platform and continued the demonstration until the train left for Metz. The three Germans were not officers." Inquiry into the incident is still proceeding, but it appears that the deed was done by excited young men who did not realize their bad taste. The Nancy incident and the Lunenburg war airship affair have aroused much ill feeling in both countries. These pictures are of interest in connection with these events and the coming war maneuvers.

JOSEPH BRUCKER WHO HOPES TO BE THE "COLUMBUS OF THE AIR"

Joseph Brucker, the Austrian-American balloonist, hopes to get away successfully soon on his attempted flight across the Atlantic ocean from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, off the coast of Africa, to the West Indies or Florida. This is the latest picture of him. He says he believes his great dirigible balloon Suchard II. will accomplish the feat and not meet with the same fate that befell Wellman and Vaniman when they started from Atlantic City, N. J., and tried to fly across the sea. When Brucker was ready to start the other day, he found that the gas had leaked out of the big bag, and he had to delay the trip. "I'll fly across the Atlantic yet," he said, as he made arrangements to get a new supply of gas.

AT SAINT MARGARET'S

Two Weeks Mission Was Opened Last NightTHE REDEMPTORIST FATHERS
THE PREACHERS

Strong Sermon Upon Salvation and the Value of a Human Soul—Retreat for Children

A two weeks' mission under the direction of the Redemptorist Fathers opened last night at St. Margaret's church in the Highlands when the women of the parish to whom the first week is to be devoted gathered in large numbers for the initial services. Last evening the services consisted of the recitation of the rosary, benediction and a sermon on "Salvation" by Rev. Father James P. Turner. The Rev. Father Turner drew his text from the text of St. Matthew, Chapter 16, Verse 26, "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul?" The sermon was in many respects similar to that delivered by Rev. O'Leary at St. Peter's church last night before the single men of the parish and it was well calculated to excite interest for an introduction to a mission series. At the opening, the preacher told a story of a woman whose mind was well stored with knowledge of the world and worldly things, who was in fact well versed in the reasons and object of all things except the all important subject of the reason of her own existence. All her worldly knowledge could not offset the ignorance of the most important fact of all, said the priest, and not knowing the things of God, she was truly ignorant of the greatest of all truths. This, said the preacher, is a beautiful lesson at this time and one which has wide application for there are thousands of such women who know all about the styles, the fashions, the sciences, etc., but know nothing or very little concerning the science of saving their own souls.

One of the greatest reasons for this is the fact that they do not know the value of the soul, in explanation of this statement, Father Turner said that the soul is a person's greatest and only treasure. It is the masterpiece of God. This is shown in the history of creation as related in the book of Genesis; it is proven from the great price which Christ paid for the redemption of the soul, from the pictures and stories of his birth, his death on the cross on Mt. Calvary; it is evident from the fact that the holy spirit takes up the soul in preserving the church and in the church itself, whose aim is the glory of God and the salvation of the soul. The fact that God appointed angels as special guardians of the soul is a great proof of its value. Even Satan himself proclaims the value of the soul when he performs the most mental services in order that he may gain power over it and were he to pay the entire world in return for one soul, he would consider it cheaply bought. Thus it is, said Father Turner, that we should make more of our soul than of our body; we take pains to feed the body but we neglect the nourishment of the spirit; we clothe the body in fine robes but we neglect to clothe the soul in virtue. We summon doctors to relieve the ills of the body but we do not relieve the ills of the soul in confession, when it is in the utmost spiritual danger, but we rather expose it to great danger and to the contagion of evil influence and bad companions.

A retreat for the children of the parish was opened yesterday afternoon and will close on Wednesday morning when the young people will receive communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass. The children's services will be at 7 a. m. and 4 p. m. The mission masses will be at 5 and 8 o'clock and the evening services with sermon and instructions at half past seven.

Rev. Mr. Clapp Preached at the First
Trinitarian Church at Sunday Morning Service

"A true Christian leader will sacrifice his personal ambition to the cause in which he labors," said Rev. Raymond G. Clapp, the new pastor of the First Trinitarian church, at the Sunday morning service. He found his inspiration in the 25th verse of the 11th chapter of Acts which went forth to "seek for Saul."

"The most important thing in church work," said the speaker, "is not what we do, but the work which we enable other people to do." He appealed for the co-operation of his flock in the work he has undertaken.

Lodges Attended
the Service

REV. GEORGE KING,
Pastor of St. Paul's

The members of Waverly lodge, Sons of St. George, and Princess lodge, 1. O. D. St. George, attended the morning services at St. Paul's M. E. church, Sunday, and listened to a sermon on Christian brotherhood by Rev. G. King, D. D. There was special music.

A delegation of members of the degree staff and organization of Waverly lodge went to Boston Saturday to witness the degree competition of lodges in the Massachusetts jurisdiction held under the auspices of the grand lodge.

Nine teams were entered in the contest, which began at 2:30 a. m. Earl of Shaftesbury lodge of Brockton had the honor of opening the contest and Pioneer lodge of Sanford, Me., was the last to march on the floor. The judges, selected by the grand lodge, were kept busy, during both the ritual and floor work. John Orrell, P. G. P. of Waverly lodge, was one of the three judges.

After the close of the competition, the judges met to decide on the winners. At 12 m. they had not arrived at a decision and adjourned until 3 a. m. Sunday. All the teams were well drilled, both in the ritual and floor work, and those who attended, felt well repaid. The following members of Waverly lodge were present: Harold J. Housell, Samuel J. Hart, John W. Andrews, Harry L. Francis, Albert Fielding, Frank Pascale, John D. Williams, Albert Stoddard, Charles Cronin, Abel Cramble, Thomas Gardner, William S. Dawson, Arthur P. ## Burglar Kills One and Wounds Another Woman and Man—Three Houses Visited ATTLEBORO, April 21.—Mrs. Eugene Cobert lies dead. Mrs. Mary Powers is dying and the latter's brother, James Powers, is suffering from a shattered bone in the arm, as a result of the utter disregard for human life exhibited by a burglar in this city yesterday morning.

No Clue to Murderer

He escaped without leaving the slightest clue to his identity. As quick to use his revolver and in all respects as murderous an individual as the notorious Bertram G. Spencer of Springfield, who expelled his crime in the electric chair, the midnight marauder struck terror to the hearts of the occupants of the two houses which he visited.

Shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning the bandit entered the home of Eugene Cobert at Sibleyville, a village almost on the state line. Mrs. Cobert thought she heard a noise on the floor below and went down to see what the trouble was. The next thing her daughter and husband heard was a scream and a few moments later found Mrs. Cobert lying on the floor with a bullet in her body, just above the heart. She was able to gasp the words "I am dying" before the blood poured into her lungs and she died.

Leaving the house, the man crossed Cranberry pond by the bridge, went through the strip of woods on the other side, and within a few minutes was standing before the house of Joseph Powers on Washington street.

Though he knew that a warning cry had been raised behind him just across the little road, and he could see the lights flashing in the houses adjoining the Cobert home, the man was not deterred. He found an open window on the street floor of the house and, entering, went through the dining room, then up stairs into the chamber occupied by Helen Powers, the 18-year-old daughter of the owner.

Saw Revolver in His Hand

The girl was awakened the moment the man entered the room, but when she saw the revolver in his hand she realized that to scream might cost her her life, so she pretended to be asleep. The man remained in her room but a few minutes, then went to the third floor, where her father was sleeping. The girl lay quiet for a time, then started to cross the hall to the chamber of her aunt, Miss Mary Powers. She had just reached the door when she saw the burglar descend the stairs. He fired a shot at Mr. Powers, hitting him in the left arm.

Miss Mary Powers came running out of her room, aroused at the sound of the shot, and the man ran by her just as she threw open the door. Helen was cowering back in the darkness of her own room. As soon as he saw the woman before him the man raised his revolver and shot her in the left shoulder.

At the cost of one life surely, with the chance of another and serious injury to a third, the burglar had obtained exactly $175, taken from the pockets of Mr. Powers' trousers.

DRACUT

About 5 o'clock Saturday morning, a lively blaze was discovered in an unoccupied tenement house in the rear of 113 Riverside street, and only the prompt action of the neighbors and speedy response of the Lowell department saved the structure from complete destruction. The fire, the cause of which can only be guessed at, in some manner got in between the partition and for quite a few minutes the neighbors who had forced their way into the place were unable to discover the blaze, although the smoke was pouring forth in great volumes. Soon a detachment of the Lowell fire department arrived on the scene with equipment and the flames were soon extinguished. The damage was considerable and the house was owned by the Fols estate.

On Friday evening a "Welcome" party took place in Harmony hall in aid of St. Mary's church of Coltonville and the affair was a great success both in the size of the attendance and consequently financially. There was a pleasing concert program and dancing. The music being furnished by the Lyceum orchestra. A bounteous supper was served in the basement of the hall and this feature was in charge of a committee composed of the members of St. Mary's parish. The hall itself was beautifully decorated for the occasion with flowers and lanterns. The officers were General manager, Thomas Barker; floor director, Patrick Meade; supper manager, James Castello; assisted by Mrs. William Whelan, Mrs. William Culligan, Miss Mary Foran and Miss Josie Whelan.

HEADACHE?—IT'S YOUR LIVER

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic Is Needed

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels, will never have headaches.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every Little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS

Urges Change of Apportioning Delegates

Congressman John Jacob Rogers is urging the republicans in congress to take some action in the matter of changing the system of apportioning delegates to the national republican convention. He believes that the present system of apportioning delegates according to the population of the states should be changed to an apportionment in proportion to the total republican population. He has introduced a resolution in the formal conference of republican representatives which he expects will be given careful consideration when the pressing matters relative to the tariff have been disposed of. The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, the present method of apportioning among the several states

the total membership of republican national conventions, being based upon total population within each state, rather than upon total republican population therein, has resulted and will inevitably result in a gross inflation in the proportionate representation accorded to republicans in the democratic states, so-called, at the expense of republicans in republican states, so-called;

"Whereas, experience has shown that no change in this present method of apportioning delegates is to be hoped for at a convention held to nominate a president and a vice president, be it

"Resolved, by this conference of the republican members of the house of representatives of the sixty-third congress, that for the present method of apportioning delegates based on total republican population strength, that the republican national committee be hereby requested to call a special republican sectional convention for the purpose of considering the adoption of a method based on republican voting strength, and that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the republican national committee."

LONDON, April 21.—"Arson squads of militant suffragettes were out in several places last night. They burned a hayrick in Wiltshire belonging to the father of Charles Hobhouse, Chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster. The grand stand at the Miford football grounds also caught on fire, but the flames were quenched by a matchman before they had obtained a build-up. Distraint was levied today on Duchess Adelaide Bedford for non-payment of her taxes. A silver cup was taken to satisfy the claims of the tax collector. The duchess is an ardent suffragist and she took this means of showing her hostility to the taxation of women while they still are without the franchise.

339 LAWYERS IN 63RD CONGRESS

Congressional Directory Just Issued Has Sketches of Members Prepared by Themselves

WASHINGTON, April 21.—What members of the 63rd congress think of themselves became public today when the new congressional directory was issued. The new directory contains biographies of representatives and senators prepared by themselves.

Lawyers, as usual, form the bulk of the legislators. Sixty-nine are in the senate and 270 in the house. In the senate there are eight editors, six farmers, five business men, five bankers, two doctors and one soldier. The house contains 25 lawyers, 23 editors, ten farmers, 15 business men, one merchant and workman, six bankers, six doctors, one author, one soldier, one preacher and one lecturer.

The directory lists in the senate 34 democrats, 44 republicans and one progressive. In the house there are 250 democrats, 127 republicans, seven progressive republicans, nine progressives and one independent, with a vacant seat caused by the death of Rep. Lee of South Carolina. The house roll call, which for several congresses has been led by Rep. Adam of Indiana will be led in this congress by a new representative, John Alderson of Alabama. The new senator from Kansas, William H. Thompson in discussing his future says: "It is acknowledged by all who know him as senator that he will not only bring credit and honor to himself but to the state and the nation as well."

Generally the biographies in the new directory are remarkable for their brevity, as compared to former publications. Many of the members confine themselves to simple statements of their political records. The shortest biography is that of Representative Lunt of Minnesota, who describes himself simply as "Republican of the United States." Rep. Long of Florida says "I studied in the public schools of the state." While Rep. Thibault of Illinois was educated in the school of hard knocks. Mr. Bremer of New Jersey declares he never "ran for office" until, against his will, he was practically unanimously nominated for the 63rd congress.

MAN DROPPED DEAD

D. B. H. BARTLETT DIED SUDDENLY SATURDAY

Was Chief Engineer of Lowell Water Department and a Veteran of the Civil War

Daniel B. H. Bartlett, for the past 17 years chief engineer of the Lowell water department, dropped dead in Bridge street Saturday evening on his way home from the theatre.

Deceased was born in this city Oct. 31, 1817, and in July, 1862, he enlisted in the Seventh Independent Battery, Massachusetts Light Artillery, and was honorably discharged July 18, 1865.

Seventeen years ago he was appointed chief engineer of the Lowell water department and has kept his position up to the time of his death, being a very valuable man in this department. Mr. Bartlett is survived by his wife.

Mrs. Amelia S. Bartlett, two sons, Arthur and Hayward N. Bartlett, both of this city; a sister, Mrs. Charles H. Warren; a brother, Capt. Edwin W. Bartlett, and a daughter, Mrs. Edward F. Carley of Wilmington, Del., and several grandchildren. He was a member and trustee of James A. Garfield post, 129, G. O. P., and for 25 years an adjunct of Washington, and also a member of the Owls and Fat Men's club.

THE ROBERTSON CO.

Has Made Important Additions to Its Business

It is surprising what can be accomplished in a few years by applying the saying goes "a live wire" to a man's business, and the Robertson Bros., furniture dealers of our city, have exemplified that saying of the live wire in their business. Having started in a very modest furniture store by street and close attention to business they have been gradually adding in the capacity of their store each succeeding year in both floor space and variety of goods so as to meet the ever increasing demands, until today they can certainly feel that they have and are entitled to the reputation of being the leading furniture house of our city. A few weeks ago they were fortunate in being able to take over a portion of their building with the exception of Roy & O'Brien's store, and they soon set forth with carpenters to make alterations suitable for carrying on the furniture business therein. One of the most important additions they made was to change a portion of one of the floors into a five room flat of average size and they have been successful to the last degree in their effort, for this happy thought enables the newly married couples who desire to go house-keeping to see almost at a glance just what they might need.

The rooms run the entire width of the building starting with the kitchen which is furnished with all the modern kitchen furniture making it a house of beauty, convenience and comfort. The second is the dining room with furniture which is up to date. The sitting room follows; then comes the chamber and the parlor beautifully furnished with up-to-date furniture which would charm the heart of any bride. This is positively an original idea that has never been carried out by any other furniture house in our city, and judging from the many compliments received from the thousands of people who called at the establishment last week it will prove to be one of the biggest hits in their business career and shows that Messrs. John and Will Robertson are right up to the minute in the furniture line. The most fastidious patron can find at Robertson's. Selecting furniture is one of the things that confuses many newly married couples. But in this innovation of the Robertson company the problem has been solved. Lack of space and time prevents us from giving an elaborate description of the many other beautiful displays of household goods, but we will be content in saying that it is one of the dearest hits that has ever been carried out by any furniture dealer in our city, and would simply say that if you haven't been in to inspect as yet go at once, and you will be richly repaid for your trouble. The gentlemanly clerks will be pleased to show anybody through what might be called Lowell's "live wire" furniture store.

Harvard Concert and Dance

MISSING SINCE MARCH 20

Big Reward for Return of Katherine Winters

CHICAGO, April 21.—A clue to the whereabouts of Katherine Winters, the nine year old daughter of Captain Winters of Newcastle, Ind., missing since March 20, was given the police here yesterday when they searched a camp of Romany gypsies in a suburb. The chief of the camp gave information that leads to the suspicion that the child may be with a band of Russian gypsies which camped near Newcastle at the time of the child's disappearance. Local representatives of the department of justice are investigating. There is a reward of $2000 for the return of the girl unharmed.

MILITIA TRAINING SCHOOL

Adjutant General Gardner W. Pearson, with the assistance of the so-called "academic board," which is composed of high officers of the militia, will soon establish a school for the development of educational work along military lines other than marching movements, the same to be composed of a new section of militiamen to be known as "the cadets."

The new section will not be a division of the militia, but will be made up of chosen men from the ranks of the non-commissioned officers of the companies. It will be for the purpose of pursuing a recognized two year course of study in military matters and is planned to educate enlisted men and to come in the matters which will not them to seek commissions and to give valuable service in the field.

General Pearson some time ago appointed the so-called "academic board" to look into this matter and report, and they did, their report being in part as follows: The board hopes, by establishing the school herein outlined, to bring in each community supporting a single company, one or two men available for commissions, and in communities supporting more than one company, a sufficient number to fill all vacancies. The success of the school depends upon the co-operation of company commanders, enlisted men, the examining board, the academic board, and the officers of the school. To bring about the desired results, all must act in harmony. Company commanders must make the school popular at home stations, and seek in their communities men of capacity and zeal to become cadets.

The senior United States Inspector-instructor on duty with the Massachusetts militia will be invited to exercise the function of senior instructor in co-operation with the academic board. We consider the school heretofore raised that a United States army officer is acquainted with the needs and limitations of the militia, an unfounded.

Candidates for appointment to cadetships must have had sufficient education and training to enable them to pursue the work of the school. They shall be subject to physical examination, and other tests, if necessary, to determine their fitness for admission to the school.

The number of cadets shall be limited to 15 from each regiment of infantry, five from each cavalry corps, seven from the squadron of field artillery, five from the squadron of cavalry, one from the signal corps, 15 from the coast artillery and 15 from the naval brigade.

Cadets shall be appointed as follows: Three at large from each regiment of infantry and the coast artillery corps, one at large from each cavalry corps, one from the squadron of field artillery, one from the squadron of cavalry, one from the signal corps, one from the coast artillery and two from each battery. All appointments shall be made by the commanding officer of the unit from which appointed.

Each cadet shall be an enlisted man of any grade, enlisted and mustered in the organization from which he is appointed. Cadets are not to be relieved from duty with their organization, except in case of their organization duties conflict with the school work, in which event the school work is to take precedence. Nothing herein contained shall interfere with any duty required of the troops in aid to the civil powers.

All appointments shall be made previous to the beginning of a school year, and no appointments shall be made to fill vacancies existing after the beginning of a school year or at the end of one year's course. Cadets upon graduation shall receive a certificate which will be accepted as prima facie evidence of the cadet's professional qualifications as an officer of the grade of first or second lieutenant, or assimilated grades, and in lieu of an examination to determine fitness for these grades.

The course shall cover a period of two years. Cadets will be expected to devote, on an average, seven hours each week to correspondence school work, which will be conducted throughout eight months of the year, to attend eight monthly assemblies, which will begin on a Saturday afternoon at the end of each monthly period; and to attend a camp of instruction of seven days' duration, held at the beginning of each yearly period of instruction, which shall be in addition to the annual encampment of the organization to which the cadet belongs.

A regular course of military instruction is prescribed for each year. The work of the school is to begin September, 1912.

GEO. W. YOUNG

Was Prominent Figure in Political Events and Was a Trustee of the Central Savings Bank

Lowell is deploring the loss of one of its most valuable citizens, George W. Young, who died Saturday morning at his home, 112 Middlesex street. Deceased was one of the best known residents of this city and his demise will be keenly felt by all who were acquainted with him.

Mr. Young, who was 86 years of age, was born in Stratford, N. H., and for many years was employed by leading railroad and manufacturing companies as their confidential agent. At the state house, he was a staunch republican, and for many years took an active part in many of the important political events of this state.

He was a member of the Lowell city council for some time and was also connected with the Boston custom house department. Deceased was also connected with banking houses, and since 1870 served faithfully as a trustee of the Central Savings bank, during which time he was often consulted by many bank officials.

Mr. Young was one of the first men in Lowell to realize the importance of developing the upper Highland section of this city, and by his energy streets were constructed, schools built and hundreds of younger residents built new homes in that section.

Deceased is survived by a wife, two sons and two daughters, Charles F., treasurer of the Locks & Canals company and the Tremont & Suffolk Manufacturing Co., and George W. of Rochester, N. H.; Miss Florence Young of this city and Mrs. Edwin E. Shattuck of Concord, N. H.

ST. GEORGE'S DAY AT ST. PAUL'S WOMAN SHOT DEAD BY YEGG

Waverly and Princess
Lodges Attended
the Service.

The members of Waverly lodge, Sons of St. George, and Princess lodge, I. O. O. F., St. George, attended the morning services at St. Paul's M. E. church, Sunday, and listened to a sermon on Christian brotherhood by Rev. G. King, D. D. There was special music.

A delegation of members of the degree staff and organization of Waverly lodge went to Boston Saturday to witness the degree competition of lodges in the Massachusetts jurisdiction held under the auspices of the grand lodge. Nine teams were entered in the contest, which began at 9:30 a. m. Earl of Shaftesbury lodge of Brackton held the honor of opening the contest and Pioneer lodge of Sanford, Me., was the last to march on the floor. The judges, selected by the grand lodge, were kept busy, during both the ritual and floor work. John Orrell, P. G. F., of Waverly lodge, was one of the three judges.

After the close of the competition, two judges met to decide on the winners. At 12 m. they had not arrived at a decision and adjourned until 9 a. m. Sunday. All the teams were well drilled, both in the ritual and floor work, and those who attended, felt well repaid. The following members of Waverly lodge were present: Harold J. Housh, Samuel J. Barn, John W. Andrews, Harry L. Francis, Albert Fielding, Frank Pascall, John D. Williams, Albert Stephens, Charles Crumie, Abel Crumie, Thomas Gardner, William S. Dawson, Arthur P. Pascall, Joseph Willard, Samuel Knapp, Worcester, N. W. Matthews, Jr., William H. Scholte of South Boston, Lewis Fielding and Fred Potter.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

Lowell Opera House

The presentation of "The Rose Maid," the new opera by Verba and Leuschner at the Opera House on Saturday evening attracted a very large and intelligent audience. The company is fairly good although it has no star vocalists with the notable exception of Mr. Arthur Buckley, who assumes the role of the duke, the leading character, and Miss Evelyn Stewart as Daphne, daughter of the duke's housekeeper. The plot turns upon the deeds of a young duke who is living beyond his means on borrowed money, and advances on the prospect of his inheriting the wealth of an unmarried uncle. The latter visits the duke's quarters and finds the most extravagant revelry in progress. He issues the report that he is married and that he has a mate heir, thus destroying the young duke's financial prospects. All the young nobleman's courtiers and followers quickly drop him except the three money lenders, who loaned him large amounts on speculation, and Daphne, the daughter of his housekeeper. The money lenders plan to have him married to a rich American heiress and to financially present for their consideration.

Burglar Kills One and Wounds Another Woman and Man— Three Houses Visited

ATTLEBORO, April 21.—Mrs. Mary Powers, who was shot dead, and the latter's brother, James Powers, is suffering from a shattered bone in the arm, as a result of the utter disregard for human life exhibited by a burglar in this city yesterday morning.

No Clue to Murderer

He escaped without leaving the slightest clue to his identity.

As quick to use his revolver and in all respects as murderous an individual as the notorious Bettram G. Spencer of Springfield, who exploded his crime in the electric chair, the midnight murderer struck terror to the hearts of the inmates of the three houses which he entered.

Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday morning the bandit entered the home of Eugene Cobert at Sibleyville, a village almost on the state line. Mrs. Cobert thought she heard a noise on the floor below and went down to see what the trouble was. The next thing she saw was a man with a revolver in his hand and a bullet in her body, just above the heart. She was able to gasp the words "I am dying" before the blood poured into her lungs and she died.

Leaving the house, the man crossed Crabberry pond by the bridge, went through the strip of woods on the other side and within a few minutes was standing before the house of Joseph Powers on Washington street.

Though he knew that a warning cry had been raised behind him just across the little pond, and he could see the lights flashing in the houses adjoining the Cobert home, the man was not deterred. He found an open window on the street floor of the house and, entering, went through the dining room, then up stairs into the chamber occupied by Helen Powers, the 18-year-old daughter of the owner.

Saw Revolver in His Hand

The girl was awakened the moment the man entered the room, but when she saw the revolver in his hand she realized that to scream might cost her her life, so she pretended to be asleep. The man remained in her room but a few minutes, then went to the third floor, where her father was sleeping. The girl lay quiet for a time, then started to cross the hall to the chamber of her aunt, Miss Mary Powers. She had just reached the door when she saw the burglar descend the stairs. He fired a shot at Mr. Powers, hitting him in the left arm.

Mrs. Mary Powers came running out of her room, aroused at the sound of the shot, and the man ran by her just as she threw open the door. Helen was covering back in the darkness of her own room. As soon as he saw the woman before him the man raised his revolver and shot her in the left shoulder.

At the cost of one life surely, with the chance of another and serious injury to a third, the burglar had obtained exactly $1.75, taken from the pockets of Mr. Powers' trousers.

DYNAMITE UNDER BRIDGE

France Authorities Suspect Belgian Strikers

PEIGNIES, France, April 21.—A quantity of dynamite was found under a bridge here today. The authorities suspect the Belgian strikers of having planned an outrage but have found no proof.

DRACUT

About 5 o'clock Saturday morning, a lively blaze was discovered in an unoccupied tenement house in the rear of 47 Riverside street, and only the prompt action of the neighbors and speedy response of the Lowell department saved the structure from complete destruction. The fire, the cause of which can only be guessed at, in some manner got in between the partitions and for quite a few minutes the neighbors who had forced their way into the place were unable to discover the blaze, although the smoke was pouring forth in great volumes. Soon a detachment of the Lowell fire department arrived on the scene with equipment and the flames were soon extinguished. The damage was considerable and the house was owned by the Fels estate.

On Friday evening a "Welcome" party took place in Harmony hall in aid of St. Mary's church of Collinsville and the affair was a great success both in the size of the attendance and consequently financially. In the enjoyment of the evening, there was a concert program followed by dancing, the music being furnished by the Lyceum orchestra. A bounteous supper was served in the basement of the hall and this feature was in charge of a committee composed of the members of St. Mary's parish. The hall itself was fully decorated for the occasion with flowers and bunting. The officers were: General manager, Thomas Burke; floor director, Patrick Meade; supper manager, Mrs. James Costello, assisted by Mrs. William Whelan, Mrs. William Cullinan, Miss Mary Fogarty and Miss Joseph Whelan.

HEADACHE?—IT'S YOUR LIVER

Too Many People Take Headache
Powders When a Liver
Tonic Is Needed

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels, will never have headache.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, griping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, phlegm, headache, etc.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practical experience among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

JOHN JACOB ROGERS
Urges Change of Apportioning Delegates

Congressman John Jacob Rogers is urging the republicans in congress to take some action in the matter of changing the system of apportioning delegates to the national republican convention. He believes that the present system of apportioning delegates according to the population of the states should be changed to an apportionment in proportion to the total republican population. He has introduced a resolution in the formal conference of republican representatives which he expects will be given careful consideration when the pressing matters relative to the tariff have been disposed of. The resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, the present method of apportioning among the several states

the total membership of republican national conventions being based on total population within each state, rather than upon total republican population therein, has resulted and will inevitably result in a gross injustice in the proportional representation accorded to republicans in the democratic states, so-called, at the expense of republicans in republican states, so-called.

"Whereas, experience has shown that no change in this present indefensible system is to be hoped for at a convention held to nominate a president and a vice president, be it

"Resolved, by this conference of the republican members of the house of representatives of the sixty-third congress, that for the present method should be substituted one based on republican voting strength; that the republican national committee be hereby requested to call a special republican sectional convention for the purpose of considering the adoption of a method based on republican voting strength, and that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the republican national committee."

BIG SCHOOL TRACK MEET

Won by Highland Grammar School Saturday

On Saturday morning the South common presented a lively scene when a large number of people gathered there to witness the track meet between the grammar schools of the city, an event planned and carried out under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Thomas R. Williams was in general charge and the starter was Mr. Michael Wynne. The Highland school boys won the meet by a large margin, scoring 45 points; the Green grammar school came next with 16 points, the Bartlett third with 10 points and the Lincoln school the only other to score, its total being 8 points. There were many competitors in each event and all won the regulation running suit.

The meet was well conducted and there were policemen on hand to preserve order and assist an official. The star of the day was Arthur T. Lynch of the Green school who scored all of the 15 points credited to his school. Frederick Silcox of the Highland school came next with 15 points, having taken first place in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash and the high jump. The summary:

STONE DEFEATED BOYLE

In Fast 10 Round Bout
Saturday

MORGAN AND LENNEY WENT 10 ROUNDS TO A DRAW

Kid Thomas of Lawrence and Oscar Lloyd of Salem in Draw—Morlarty and Chick in Great Bout

According to the referee's decision, Joe Chick and Jimmy Morlarty went twelve rounds to a draw in their fight before the local club Friday night. Chick was in great form and fought his man the entire twelve sessions. Morlarty's kidneys were raw after the second round from the terrible pounding that his opponent handed out. The only thing that the local man showed was a right hand swing that seldom landed to effect. Chick forced the fighting throughout.

Stone Defeated Boyle
Young Stone sprang a surprise on the local fight followers Saturday night by handing out a beating to Jimmy Boyle in one of the three ten round bouts that comprised the show at the Lowell A. C. Stone closed Boyle early in the light and had his opponent covering up. He used both hands to good advantage whenever an opportunity showed, getting over his right with great speed and force.

This was the first appearance of Young Stone in the ring for over four months but he did not seem to be rusty. On the contrary, he looked in the pink of condition and was strong at the end of the final session. Stone played for Boyle's maintenance rather than his body while Boyle's most effective punch was a left hook to the jaw. The referee's decision met with general approval.

Kid Thomas of Lawrence and Oscar Lloyd of Salem went ten fast rounds to a draw.

Young Morgan of Manchester and Gus Lenney of Boston also provided a good show during their twelve rounds of fighting. Both boys finished strong and a draw decision was the only one that could be given under the circumstances. Dick Seaman favored with piano selections and John Dalton gave several vocal solos. The program was a classy one, but proved a financial loss to the club.

Indians Slow to Develop Boxing

Although the American aborigines have become prominent in many kinds of sport, "poor Joe" has never taken kindly to the biff game. No man with Indian blood in his veins, as H. Togg would say, has ever come within halting distance of a pugilistic championship.

Jim Thorpe, Meyers and "Chick" Hopkins, among many others, have won great fame as athletes and upheld the prowess of the red race on the track and diamond and athletic field, and everybody knows of the Marathon accomplishments of Tom Loughrey.

When it comes to the ring, however, the aborigines are simply "not there." Joe Grex was about the only full blooded Indian to show much ability as a boxer. In his prime Joe was a game and clever fighter and was the victor in a number of contests with good men.

Family Football Team Next?

Among the candidates for positions on the Auburn football team next fall will be five members of the Cagell family. Two are brothers of the famous tackle who earned a place in the All Southern team in 1909-10-11. The other three are first cousins. None of the five weighs less than 150 pounds.

One of them will try for a back field position, and the other four for the line. All five have had some experience and promise to make matters interesting for other aspirants to varsity positions on the Alabama squad.

The first of the Cagells attracted notice by his play in the Swann and Vanderbilt games in 1909.

The Harvester a Great Horse

The Harvester, first three-year-old to win three family stakes, was not broken to harness so he could be driven to light cart until late in the spring of his third year.

He won all his engagements, not losing a heat, went into winter quarters with a third heat record of 2 minutes 53 seconds, and trained up to the best record for stallions, 2 minutes 1 second.

MANAGER DOOIN SAYS PHILLIES WILL MAKE LEADING TEAMS HUSTLE

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Although the early showing of the Phillies has been anything but promising, Manager Charlie Dooin says his team will be in the thickest of the National league fight from start to finish. Dooin declares the Phillies compare very favorably with the Pittsburgh, New York and Chicago teams. Charles thinks his team will hang around position No. 2 from June on until near the finish and then with a spurt land the banner or at least make it very warm for the leading club. Dooin says he will try hard to catch every game from now on. This time last year the Quakers were picked to win the pennant, but injuries kept them out of the running. So far Pittsburgh, New York and Chicago, this spring the club has been fortunate in this matter.

SCHULTE, OF THE CUBS, IS OUT AFTER HOME RUN HITTING RECORD

CHICAGO, April 21.—Frank Schulte, home run hitting with twenty-one to the Cubs' star right fielder, is out to smash all home run records in the league this season. He says to himself, judging from the manner in which he has been wallowing out four batters in the early games, it appears that he is in a fair way to accomplish the feat. In the first six games this season Schulte has made three home runs, and in the exhibition contests he whaled out four big clouts. In last Schulte led the National league in home run hitting in 1910. He was tied with Jack of Boston for the circuit swats each ten to their credit. The record for home run hitting during a big league season is twenty-five and was made by John Freeman of Washington in 1899.

LOWELL DROPPED TWO GAMES

Defeated by the New London and Bridgeport Teams in Holiday Exhibitions

The Lowell team was twice beaten Saturday by two teams from the Eastern league, New London in the morning and Bridgeport in the afternoon. Both games were batting festivals with the visiting teams carrying off the honors. New London won the morning game by the score of 11 to 9, while Bridgeport pilled up 15 runs to Lowell's 8 in the afternoon contest.

The weather was so cold that the pitchers could not be given a fair trial although the local slab artists were on color in every particular. In the morning game Lowell outlived her opponents almost two to one, but the free passes that were handed out by her boxmen resulted in her defeat.

Miller, Magee and Halstein were the sluggers in the first game, Miller making two home runs inside the grounds. Magee also landed a four bagger, while the collection landed on the ball for four safeties. Halstein played a good

This is what Your Father Did to Get a REAL Smoke

Your father sliced each pipeful fresh from his plug. It took only a minute and he got a real smoke.

Master Workman Tobacco has all the natural moisture pressed into the leaf, and held there by a natural leaf wrapper. This makes Master Workman the freshest, sweetest, coolest tobacco you ever smoked.

No tobacco sliced, or granulated at the factory, can hold its original moisture and flavor while waiting for your pipe. Chopped-up tobacco is bound to get dry—smoke hot—and bite your tongue.

If you think this only "advertising talk" cut off a pipeful of Master Workman and let the tobacco prove its truthfulness. You will find, for the first time, what the natural flavor of tobacco IS.

First Baseman of Lowell Team

MILLER.
Second Baseman of Lowell Team consistent game at the initial sack, taking several chances that looked like sure hits. The attendance at the morning game was not over four hundred, but the crowd that turned out to the afternoon contest in spite of the inclement weather fully made up for the few fans that attended the morning performance. There were more than two thousand paid admissions at the Bridgeport game.

The first inning decided the second contest of the day, Bridgeport battering around in the first inning and every man getting a run before the team could be retired. Even their pitcher connected for a two base wallop. The nine runs which resulted from this disastrous inning was enough to put the game on ice.

Jack Routles and Ed McInerney both played with the Eastern leaguers outfit, the former banging out three hits for a total of five. Both players received a hearty welcome from the fans on their first appearance at bat. Although Lowell outlived the visitors, their bingles did not come at the opportune moment when his mean runs. Halstein, Smoyer and Burns each got three hits for the locals. The lineups and scores:
